To whom it may concern:

I recently heard the $25 fee for the iron worker's apprentice program application will be done away with.

I feel the opportunity to be an [redacted] in Local [redacted] or [redacted] is worth well more than $25. If $25 is too much to pay for the job of a lifetime, as far as the trades are concerned, you don't belong applying anyway.

Please reconsider your decision.

Sincerely,
