Item 16—Wage Rates, Special Pay Information and Deductions

The employer will offer the highest of the AEW, the prevailing hourly wage
A. ~~The Adverse Effect Wage Rate, the prevailing hourly wage rate, or the employer's~~ hourly wage rate, the piece rate, the agreed-upon collective bargaining rate, or the Federal or State minimum wage. At the time of submission of this order, the applicable wage is $10.16/hour. The rate is based on the Adverse Effect Wage Rate. If the Department of Labor publishes a new AEW and the new AEW is higher than the approved wage rate listed on the job order and/or the work contract, the employer will adjust the offered wage to the higher AEW. Similarly, if an applicable prevailing wage is increased during the contract period and the Department notifies the employer of the increase and if the approved wage rate listed on the job order and/or the work contract is lower than the new prevailing wage, the employer will adjust to the higher prevailing wage rate.

B. The employer will make the following deductions where required by Federal or State law: FICA, Federal Income Tax Withholding, and State Income Tax Withholding. Federal law does not require FICA and Federal Income Tax Withholding for H-2A workers; thus, the employer will not make deductions for those items from the paychecks of its H-2A workers.

C. The employer will not pay a bonus at any time.
